2. OUR STORY PAGE

THE STORY BEHIND THE SQUARE

It started with chocolate.

Before The Dark Square had a name, there was simply a love for making chocolate.

For years, chocolate-making was a creative journey — experimenting with flavours, making handmade chocolates and watching people's faces light up when they tasted them.

Then life happened.

The chocolate-making stopped.

For five years, there was a pause.

But the love for chocolate never really left.

And then came the second chapter.

The idea of The Dark Square began with a simple thought:

What if we started again?

Not by recreating what came before, but by taking everything we had learned and creating something new.

Something more intentional.

Something with character.

Something that could tell stories.

And so, The Dark Square was born.

WHY “THE DARK SQUARE”?

Because chocolate begins with the square. Simple. Familiar. Iconic.

But inside that little square can be an entire world of flavours, textures, memories and moments.

A small square with a story waiting to be discovered.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Chocolate should make you pause.

We believe good chocolate doesn't need to shout. It should invite you in.

A beautiful flavour. A satisfying texture. A moment of quiet happiness.

That's our idea of indulgence.

Thoughtful over complicated.

We don't make chocolates simply to fill a box. We think about how flavours come together, how textures complement each other and how each chocolate makes you feel.

Made with intention.

Every flavour begins with an idea. Every recipe is tested. Every piece is crafted with care.

DEVELOPER DIRECTION

Keep the website visually premium and spacious. Avoid making every section text-heavy.

Recommended rhythm: BIG HEADLINE → beautiful chocolate image → 2–3 lines → button → whitespace.

Lily & Leo should eventually appear as a recurring visual storytelling element across the site rather than being restricted to one page.

Overall voice: premium, warm, intimate, handcrafted, slightly whimsical and story-led. Avoid overused luxury-chocolate language such as “decadent indulgence” and “exquisite luxury.”
